Access # 1:

From Creede drive southwest on Colorado 149 for 19 miles and turn left on Rio Grande Reservoir Road, FDR 520. Continue on this road for 17 miles until you reach the Ute Creek Trailhead. Black Lake is at the junction with the Ute Creek Loop, located 6.5 miles up the trail from the Ute Creek trailhead.

Access # 2:

Can be reached by either the Vallecito Creek Trail (see its description) or the Pine River Trail to Flint Creek Trail (see that description). The trail north to the Continental Divide Trail (CDT) is between Flint Lakes and Rock Lake.

Attractions & Considerations:

The hiking trail in this area is moderate in difficulty, with meadows, streams, and occasional stands of trees. Two loops can be taken: the "inner" loop of roughly 12.3 miles and the "outer" loop of about 22.4 miles. Traveling clockwise from the loop from Black Lake along the Middle Ute Creek Trail, you descend through meadows at a moderate to steep grade. You will cross several creeks and reach the East Ute Creek Trail junction at .9 miles.

Inner Loop: At the junction with the East Ute Creek Trail, continue straight on the Middle Ute Creek Trail, passing the turnoff for Ute Lake and on to Middle Ute Lake at mile 3. The CDT junction is at mile 5.2, and the trail climbs down rocky slopes south of West Ute Lake. The CDT and West Ute Creek Trail junction is at mile 8.2 and the Middle Ute Creek and West Ute Creek Trail junction at 12.6.

Fishing Considerations:

Ute Creek is a large headwater of the Rio Grande, and a fine trout stream. Most of the trail along Ute Creek provides meadow fly-fishing for small rainbows, brook trout, and cutthroats. All of the lakes in this area have been rated fair for cutthroat and rainbow. Please check the fishing regulations regarding limits, allowable lures, and restrictions on certain lakes, rivers, etc.

Weminuche Wilderness Regulations:

- Group size is limited to 15 people.
- Camping is not allowed within 100 feet of any water source.
- Outfitter-guides who receive any form of compensation must obtain a special-use permit to operate on public land.
- Possession of motorized equipment and mechanized means of transport are not permitted.
- Recreational livestock are prohibited from being restrained within 100 feet of lakeshores and streams or within riparian areas.
